

In order to support the important development of its activities, EUMEDICA, an international pharmaceutical group with more than 90 employees, is looking for a

Scientific Affairs Manager

Job description:

- Development and implementation of the marketing of our products (hospital products, severe pathologies),
- Building up contacts with Key Opinion Leaders in Benelux and several other countries,
- Scientific support for internal departments (Regulatory Affairs, Sales & Marketing...),
- Responsible for the Scientific Information,
- Participation in Research & Development & clinical trials,
- Scientific responsible person to support the development of our portfolio in Benelux and other countries,
- Scientific training of sales teams,
- Scientific support in business development (analysing potential of new products).

Profile:

- Master Degree (or PhD) with scientific orientation,
- An experience in academic or private sector is an asset,
- Ideally trilingual (French/English/Dutch),
- Good computer skills (Windows + Office),
- Dynamic, flexible and autonomous person with team spirit and good communication skills,
- Possibility to travel for participation to international congresses.

We offer:

- A full time job,
- A salary package matching your competence with a company car and extra-legal advantages,
- A dynamic and ambitious environment with possibility to develop your skills,
- A job with the possibility of increasing your responsibilities within Eumedica,
- A participation into the decision process of our portfolio management.

Working place:

- Based in offices in Manage

If you are interested, please send your application and your CV to Eumedica, for the attention of Mr. Eric Spilborghs (Human Resources Manager):

- by email: jobs@eumedica.com,

- or by letter: Chemin de Nauwelette 1, 7170 Manage, quoting « Scientific Affairs Manager » in the subject line.